SEPTEMBER, 2012

Message from the Dean

This issue of the FSU College of Medicine Orlando Regional Campus newsletter covers accolades received by our most recently graduated class, and also those of current students. The scholastic and clinical successes of our graduates continue at a high level. We knew our model of distributed, community-based education that emphasizes one-on-one teaching by faculty in practice settings would be successful, but I think we have been pleasantly surprised at just how well it is working. Did you know that the entire FSU College of Medicine Class of 2012, all students on all regional campuses, had a 100% first-try pass rate for both the clinical knowledge and clinical skills portion of the Clinical United States Medical Licensing Examinations? Better still, the average score on the clinical skills component was 235, which is significantly higher than the national average. In addition, the Class of 2013 has a current average of 240.

In other developments, our Clinical Research Network (CRN) is well underway, now with three ongoing studies involving 29 practice sites in 5 cities across Florida. We are also expanding our already successful collaboration with the University of Florida's Clinical Translational Science Institute that I reported in a presentation to the national Practice-based Research Networks Meeting in Bethesda. We also had two research abstracts presented at the same meeting. The FSU CRN will be expanding to all regional campuses as the number of studies and their scopes increase.

We are so fortunate to have outstanding and committed community faculty for the education of our students and now they are committing to academic pursuit by being involved with research in their practices.

All Faculty Meeting 2012

Faculty Award Winners

The 2012 Orlando Regional Campus All Faculty Meeting and Reception was held on August 14th at the Highland Manor in Apopka. The All Faculty Meeting is an annual event hosted by the Orlando campus which allows all of the clerkship faculty a chance to not only socialize, but also to hear about upcoming events, and Regional Campus and College-wide news. Speakers at the meeting included Dr. John Fogarty, Dean of the College of Medicine, and Dr. Michael Muszynski, Orlando Regional Campus Dean.

Each year, Clerkship Directors nominate faculty members to receive a Teaching Award and a Mission award. This year, Dr. Carlos Dumois (left), Clinical Assistant Professor for Family Medicine, was presented with the Outstanding Community Faculty Educator Award. Recipients of this award are Florida State University College of Medicine clinical faculty members who consistently demonstrate dedication to principles of the curriculum, to identifying and meeting educational needs of students, and enthusiasm for teaching, participation in faculty development, and willingness to work collaboratively to deliver the clinical curriculum effectively. Dr. Dumois has been an FSU College of Medicine faculty member since 2006. He is currently with the Florida Hospital Family Medicine Residency Program.

Dr. Edward Magee and Dr. Kristy Magee (below), Clinical Assistant Professors for Family Medicine, were presented with the College's Mission Award. This award honors the clinical faculty member who has distinguished him/herself by participating in activities that model the mission of the college to educate and develop exemplary physicians who practice patient-centered health care, discover and advance knowledge, and are responsive to community needs, especially through service to elder, rural, minority, and underserved populations. The Drs. Magee were first affiliated with the FSU College of Medicine through the Program in Medical Sciences (PIMS), in which students completed their first year of their medical education at FSU and completed their studies at the University of Florida. They are currently with Lake Mary Physicians and have been FSU College of Medicine faculty members since 2006.
