

Teaching Points in Informatics

3 Ways to Find Immunization Schedules on the PDA

:Two of our PDA resources have immunization schedules for pediatrics and adults. These are InfoRetriever 2004 and ePocrates. Here is how to find them

InfoRetreiver 2004:

Under Practice Guidelines select Perinatal and Infant. Then under Diagnosis and Treatment (?) you will see Childhood Immunizations Schedule (ACIP) This is the most thorough reference and contains adolescent immunizations as well. The adult immunization schedule is under Practice Guidelines, Infectious Disease, Diagnosis and Treatment.

ePocrates Pro:

Under Tables, scroll down to Vaccinations, Pediatric. There is also Vaccinations, Adult here and a handy reference for Vaccinations, Travel, summarized from the CDC Travel website. The Tables in ePocrates have all kinds of useful information that many times is overlooked.

Another source which is free is Shots 2004. This program can be downloaded for either the Palm or PocketPC from the site <http://www.immunized.org/> This includes a pretty color graphic of the immunizations which is interactive to give more information.