

8/11/2020

Care Point launches partnership with FSU doctors

Tallahassee Democrat.

---

Tallahassee Democrat.

---

Special to the Democrat

Published 11:53 a.m. ET Aug. 10, 2020 | Updated 4:09 p.m. ET Aug. 10, 2020

Care Point Health & Wellness Center has launched a new partnership with the Florida State University College of Medicine, bringing three staff physicians to their full-time clinic team of providers.

Jonathon Appelbaum, MD, joins Care Point's clinic providing expanded primary care services to patients. Appelbaum comes to Care Point with more than 30 years of experience. He received his MD from the University of Miami School of Medicine. Appelbaum is the Chair of the FSU College of Medicine's Department of Clinical Sciences.

Gregory Todd, MD, comes to Care Point with more than 20 years of experience. Todd received his MD from the Ross University School of Medicine West Indies.

Stephen Sandroni, MD, joins the clinic team at Care Point with more than 40 years of experience. Sandroni received his MD from the New York Medical College Medical School.

All three physicians come to Care Point from Florida State University's College of Medicine faculty, where they also instruct medical students and internal medicine residents.

“At Care Point we are committed to providing the best possible care for our community,” said Patty Ballantine, Care Point Health & Wellness Chief Operating Officer. “The health of our community is more important than ever and with the addition of these physicians, not only can we treat more patients, we can continue to ensure all patients have comprehensive care they can feel good about.”

Care Point is currently accepting new patients and accepts most insurance and Medicare plans. To schedule an appointment, call 850-354-8765 or visit carepointwellness.com to learn more.

Editor's note: An earlier version of this story had an incorrect spelling for Jonathon Appelbaum, MD,

Never miss a story: Subscribe to the Tallahassee Democrat.