

FSU host movie screening for Perinatal Mental Health Awareness week

Democrat staff 2:43 p.m. EDT May 2, 2016

(Photo: Photo courtesy of: darksideofthefullmoon.com)

Next week is Perinatal Mental Health Awareness week at Florida State University. To create awareness, the FSU College of Medicine Center for Integrated Healthcare & the Maternal Mental Health Community Advisory Board will host a free movie screening of "Dark Side of the Full Moon" Wednesday, May 11 from 5 p.m. -7:30 p.m. in the College of Medicine Auditorium, 1115 W. Call St.

The movie delves into the unseen world of maternal mental health in the U.S. After the screening, there will be an open expert panel discussion with some of the time medical professionals in the field.

Panelists include John Bryant, secretary for mental health and substance abuse, Florida Department of Children and Families; Dr. Andrea Friall, obstetrician/gynecologist at North Florida Women's Care; Dr. Fran Close, professor FAMU College of Pharmacy, and Amy Kimmel, doula and patient advocate. Seating is limited for the event. To register visit <http://med.fsu.edu/fullmoon> (<http://med.fsu.edu/fullmoon>).

Read or Share this story: <http://on.tdo.com/1TGmyRD>