DOLLY PENN WHITE, M.D., MSCR
CLASS OF 2009
Preventive Medicine

Dr. White is a staff provider at the Bethesda Community Clinic in Canton, Ga., and director of the medical mobile unit, providing free primary care to patients throughout Cherokee County. She is also a clinical preceptor for nurse practitioner students. Previously, Dr. White provided adult primary care and was quality director at Good Samaritan Health Center of Cobb, a federally qualified health center in Marietta, leading on-site and drive-through COVID vaccination clinics. An active cancer health disparities investigator, she has published extensively and is member of the American College of Preventive Medicine's undergraduate medical education subcommittee. In her spare time she enjoys supporting the performing arts with her husband, Dr. DeJuan White (M.D. '09).
